BIO

Cozmic Cat is a self made dj who started from the ground up, handing out flyers and throwing small parties in Philly with friends, sharing their love of music, vinyl and the dj scene. After working in a record shop by day and learning about the roots of Jazz, Soul, Funk and House Music from some of Philly's deepest crate diggers, Coz began spinning with a passion that led to several awards and over a decade in experience in everything from warehouse parties to corporate galas.

Years later in Toronto, she started her own record label and production company Jupiter Productions, and continues to dj and promote events, one of which continues to remain successful after 11 years.

While Cozmic Cat is perhaps best known in Toronto for her monthly Queer Women's event Cherry Bomb, her music has melted hearts and moved feet in clubs from Amsterdam to South Africa. Cozmic brings the party every time with her signature high energy blend of House, exclusive remixes, current club bangers and her own original tracks. She has released several dance singles and a music videos in 2019 on International dance music record labels. Follow Cozmic Cat around Toronto or in your headphones on Spotify, Soundcloud and more.

2019 SINGLES

The debut album #CozmicLove (2017) was quickly followed by the fresh GEMS e.p in March 2018., A 3 track e.p that explored more dancefloor oriented vibes with tracks like “Escape To Toronto” and a tribal tinged spoken word offering with 'I'm from Antigua” featuring vocals from Brooklyn based Carol Ann Daniel.

Cozmic Cat continues to steadily release singles on various E.U labels launching with “I Was Wrong” on Capiroto Records (Netherlands) on Feb 22nd. With tropical vibes and poignant lyrics, “I Was Wrong” quickly became Cozmic Cat's most streamed song on Spotify to date.

She followed up by releasing “Souvenir” a deep house groovy banger on Open Source Division (Germany) and on March 8th dropped another deep house melodic track called “This Moment” on Usound Music (Norway).

The success of “I Was Wrong” created opportunity for a music video which was directed by Toronto photographer Nancy Kim and featured Hayzel Ann Hunter with editing by Kaitlyn Whelan. “This Moment “ led to 2 remixes from UK producer Tom Gibbs with a release date of June 7th worldwide. Stay tuned for the second full length from Cozmic Cat due Fall 2019.

The album “#CozmicLove” is released on her own Jupiter Productions Label and is geared towards house music lovers, showing respect and love to deep and classic house sounds and culture from different eras and geographical locations.

The first single “Bassline Sound” received international radio and podcast play and was accompanied by the video directed by Toronto's own Shelley Sumairsingh. The “Bassline Sound” video is currently being distributed on MTV Canada and MTV Australia.
